Warning to Leaders - Don't call people names!

Dear Editor

Times-of-Israel reports that a British rapper, Wiley, stripped of royal honours for the allegation of antisemitic beliefs. The paper says "This has since been revoked, following frequent antisemitic outbursts on social media in recent years..."

Reuters reports that a law under consideration by the German parliament would mean that people who have committed anti-Semitic acts can never be granted citizenship.

FT reports that "Rishi Sunak accused of talking down Britain after 'mob rule' comments". Prime Minister Rishi Sunak says Britain is descending into "mob rule" because of the pressures created by protests

Aljazeera says it all:

India's Hindu children are being radicalised – will the country speak up?

Muslims are familiar with anti-Muslim slurs and cuss words used against them. But something new is happening which is radically different from earlier times.

US Neocons Are Warmongering Around The World To Dominate The Globe

Are you unwittingly a mouthpiece of them?

Professor Jeffrey Sachs speak with Dr. Heinz Gärtner at the International Conference for Peace in Vienna (June 2023).

Prof. Sachs lays out clearly and succinctly how belligerent the United States' foreign policy is. He also covers how a small group of elites keeps dragging the country's diplomacy to the brink of nuclear war—time and again.

White Army on the rise in Russians' hearts and minds

Outrage over 'whites-only' party at Russian-run nightclub in Sri Lanka

Sky News reports:

"A poster for a "White Party" last weekend at the Sarayka Lounge, in the popular resort town of Unawatuna, specified a white dress code, as is normal for such events.

However, the poster, which was shared online widely, also included a line saying "Face Control: White," prompting outrage from people who interpreted it as meaning none-white people would not be allowed in.

While the Indian media and politicians have long harped on the supposed dangers of radicalisation among Muslim youth, or of the threat of far-left propaganda, we are now witnessing the turbo-charged expression of a reality the country has never confronted: the radicalisation of Hindu youth.

It is an everyday radicalisation of young men and women who appear very normal, until they decide to target Indian Muslims and Christians.

The largest democracy in the world, seemingly forgotten the Nazi Germany's Yungvolk?

Shortly after the anger erupted in the southern coastal town, authorities in the South Asian country said they were cancelling long-term tourist visa extensions.

But President Ranil Wickremesinghe raised doubts over whether the government would go through with the cancellations as they would threaten much-needed tourist income, according to Sky News' US partner network NBC news.

To Defeat the Islamic Fascism of Iran and Turkey, We Must Delegitimize the Ideology

Providence - Nadine Maenza & Brandon H. Wheeler (January 3, 2020) in an article suggest that Islam is being instrumental in the hands of Fascists.

The rhetoric about the so-called "War on Terror" has led us down the wrong path for 20 years. Terrorism is a tactic. We are not at war with terror. Similarly, our fight is not against radical or extreme Islam. When it comes to the Middle East, particularly Turkey, Syria, Iraq, and Iran, it is imperative that we understand the true nature of the threat. We are fighting Islamic Fascism—the political idea in which state actors or nonstate actors are using Islam to rule people through the use of violence. This is not about Islam itself, but rather about belligerents hijacking the religion for their own political purposes. With this definition, it is clear that you can be a good Muslim and not be a fascist. This is the reality for thousands of Sunni Arabs who fought and died alongside Christians and Kurds against ISIS as members of the Syrian Democratic Forces.

against the Israel-Hamas war. FT continues "PM warned he risks harming foreign investment with remarks seen as attempt to court rightwingers"

Aljazeera reports that "French authorities have said that Algerian footballer Youcef Atal was detained for questioning and will stand trial for sharing a social media post that purportedly encouraged violence against Jews.

In a statement on Friday, prosecutors said that police detained Atal, who plays for French club Nice, for questioning on Thursday as part of a probe into possible "justification of terrorism" over the post."

On the other hand, voters in Rochdale - Britain, in a mass move, pointed the finger at the Labour Party for disowning its candidate. The candidate had claimed that Israel was fully aware of the Hamas attack; nevertheless, allowed Hamas to do what it did. This unfounded comment raised hell. The Labour Party, not wanting to lose a coming up by-election (mid-term) and wanting to keep the momentum, immediately disowned him and announced that he (a Muslim) is no longer their candidate. The satiric side of this tragedy is that the Labour Party cannot remove the name and logo of the Party printed against the candidate's name on the ballot sheet, as all sheets have already been printed by the Election Office.

George Galloway, a leftist candidate who had a serious grudge against the Labour Party, took the opportunity and threw in his hat and won by a majority of 6000 votes. On his victory speech he named the leader of the Labour Party and said "Keir Starmer - this is for Gaza" . The Labour Party, who had already enjoyed over 9000 majority, became fifth.

One wonders, now that majority of the people of Rochdale voted for this "outspoken" candidate (an antisemitic man - according to many Parties), does it mean that the voters are also antisemitic, or just anti-genocide? On the other hand, does it mean that those who did not vote for him, agree with bombing and killing unarmed Palestinian citizens?

Now a point of advice to all those who want to remove a dictator regime in their own countries: please do make sure the next regime is not as "democratic" as these regimes in Europe, otherwise you have jumped from the frying pan into the fire.
